EGD services are subject to deductible/ co-pay, or prior authorization from your insurance company as this is not a screening or wellness service.

What is an EGD:

An EGD is an upper GI endoscopy to examine your upper gastrointestinal tract. This procedure allows the physician to look directly at your esophagus, stomach and duodenum to diagnose certain conditions such as ulcers, gastritis, tumors, hiatal hernias and Barrett's Esophagus. During this procedure your physician can also take biopsies, remove foreign objects, stop bleeding and / or open strictures.

One week before your procedure:

- Stop taking all iron products.
- Do not stop any blood pressures, blood thinners or heart medications until you hear from our office.

Prep for EGD:

- Do not eat any SOLID foods after midnight. You can have clear liquids only up to 4 hours prior to arrival time.
- If you normally take heart or blood pressure medications in the mornings, take them with a very small sip of water.
- This is a SEDATED procedure so you must have someone with you. Plan to be here 2-3 hours.
